Student-Centered World

About

Hi! I'm Jenn, CEO of Student-Centered World LLC based in North Carolina, USA. I started my teaching journey in 2007. Throughout my tenure of teaching, I taught in both an affluent, academically charged district and also a Title I, technical CTE school. Through my own research and both trial and (lots of) error, I was able to make the transition from a 100% teacher-led classroom to a 100% student-led one, skyrocketing student engagement in the classroom. After falling in love with giving workshops to other teachers and finding it my calling to help students outside of the walls of my own classroom, I founded Student-Centered World in 2018 with the goal to help every teacher ignite intrinsic motivation in their students.
